

Ok, so i had my first beautiful surprise of my new car, when painting the calipers, i happened to find oh, say a damn spring spacer on each wheel!!!!!! 7500 MILES LATER!!!! they were behind the spring, so i don't think they even noticed them. I wonder what the percentage is that has found these.

As Promised, here's a picture of on of them on my rear wheels
(Sorry it took so long, I accidently deleted it off my camera had to spend a day trying to recover it)

